OTD Assn. Sets Plans For 1972

The Lemon Grove Old Time Days Association announced plans for the ninth annual Old Time Days celebrations after a meeting last week.

The theme of "The Gay Ninety's" has been selected for this year's event, which will be staged May 12, 13, and 14. The annually featured Old Time Days Parade will be May 14 at 1 p.m., with theme floats, bands, clowns, and other units.

Leading up to the celebrations will be the kickoff dinner May 5 under the direction of George Tonner and the May 21 golf tournament sponsored by the Horseshoe Tavern. Other activities include a carnival adjacent to St. John of the Cross Church, and an Old Time Barbeque at St. Philip's Church.

The final event under the sponsorship of the association will be the July 4th picnic at Green Spot Park.

The next meeting of the association will be January 26 at 3415 Imperial ave. Anyone interested in helping plan the celebrations is invited to attend.

Packed Agenda Brings Special Planning Association Meeting

An interesting, informative, and somewhat incomplete meeting of the executive committee of the Lemon Grove Planning Association was held last Thursday evening at Golden Avenue School.

Members of the executive committee took in a program presented by representatives of the San Diego Planning Department and the La Mesa Planning Department, who discussed plans currently being contemplated for areas of their cities which border Lemon Grove.

According to Jim Dorman, chairman of the local association, information gained through the program will help the local planners to insure compatible planning with neighboring communities.

One area of the program which was of particular interest was the Planned Residential Development concept, an alternative to the standard "gridiron" plan for development of housing areas.

A report was also given on a sixty-foot outdoor advertising sign which was recently constructed in Lemon Grove, although a moratorium has been in effect barring the construction of the signs in the county.

Dorman said that the new sign, which was constructed by Foster and Kleiser Outdoor Advertisers, is legal because a permit for its construction was issued prior to the moratorium.

Additionally at the meeting, population growth and projections were issued by the county, which will be used in determining the amount of park space, housing areas, and other allowances to be made in developing a community plan.

The local planning body will analyze the figures and make its projections, Dorman said.

The agenda for the meeting called for reports from sub committees on goals for the community, but the meeting never got that far along. Another meeting has been scheduled for this evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Golden Avenue School auditorium for the purpose of reviewing and receiving reports from the sub-committees.

A goal of March 13 has been set for the approval of community goals by the association's general membership.

Boom Predicted Here

Dr. Raymond Jallow, United California Bank's chief economist had good news for a banquet-roomfull of people in San Diego the other night.

"We predict a boom for 1972," he announced.

He then provided the back-up evidence.

What Dr. Jallow says is important because he has been hitting the economic nail on the head for the several years he has been prognosticator for the bank's annual economic and financial forecast under UCB's sponsorship.

He made an interesting observation when he said that California had finally joined the nation. In years past California's economy has often been different than the nation's. Jallow said the State's economy should now follow closely the nation's—and the nation's economy is now on the wing.

Last year his predictions could have been used for the nation's economic blueprint—he was that exact.

He used these criteria to back up his happy predictions for this year.

For the nation for 1972 — and the state will follow the percentages closely:

Employment—up 5 per cent—1.8 million new jobs

Disposable personal income—up 8.6 per cent or $64 billion

Personal income—up 7.9 per cent or $68 billion. (Controls will keep it from being higher)

Gross National Product (GNP)—up 9.4 per cent, a record $99 billion increase.

Inflation—3 per cent against 4.3 in 1971 and 5.9 in 1970

Corporate profits—up 18 per cent

Consumer income—up 8 per cent in spite of wage ceilings

Consumer spending—up 9.2 or $61 billion. This dramatic increase is because of: reduced inflation; lower federal income taxes; increased spendable income; increased employment; low interest rates, and favorable economic climate

Business investment—up 11.8 per cent or $18 billion

Federal goods and services—up 4 per cent to a $30 billion deficit

State and local government goods and services—up 9.6 per cent or $13 billion

Business sales—up 9.3 per cent. Biggest increase in 10 years.

U.S. exports—up 10.3 per cent or $7 billion.

Before everyone takes off into the wild, blue yonder for the rainbow, let's hear Dr. Jallow's warning.

1973 may be a bust depending on how inflation is kept under control. The administration indicated before Dr. Jallow's speech-making week was out—that it would keep a clamp on price and wage controls—even after the election.

R.O.T.C. Gets New Facilities At Mt. Miguel

Last summer was a busy one for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at Mt. Miguel High School, as the ROTC department moved from what is now the Associated Student Body room to T-3 and T-4.

Both rooms are elaborate and large in size, and an office separates both rooms with an added storage room to keep reading and educational equipment in good shape. Both rooms are climate controlled.

T-3 is used for first year men, where they are instructed in First Aid, U. S. History, Origin of the Armed Forces, and Weapons Training. Information bulletins and the week's training schedule are exhibited for all cadets.

Equipped with personal desks for all Officers and NCO's, T-4 is the upper-classmen room. Instruction in the class consists of map reading, military tactics, military teaching techniques, and evolution of warfare.

An Officer/NCO lounge has been placed within T-4 with a Coke machine provided. All furniture was donated by the cadets, who worked hard, according to Sergeant Geoffrey Adams, to have the lounge established. Besides helping to keep files and office in running order, office assistants maintain the lounge when necessary.

3rd Class Mail Rates to Rise

Third class postal rates go up Sunday.

Most recipients are familiar with the circular and pamphlets that arrive under the "bulk rate" which is usually referred to as "junk mail."

That rate goes up from 4 cents to 5 cents for each piece.

The third class rate that an individual user (non-bulk) would pay is 8 cents for the first 2 ounces and 2 cents an ounce for all over that rate.

Beginning Sunday the rate for the first 2 ounces will be the same but a more complicated scale is used from there. Rates, after the first 2 ounces are in sets of three. The first of the three is 2 cents and the remaining two are 3 cents. Example: 2 ounces, 8 cents; 3 ounces, 10 cents; four ounces, 13 cents; five ounces, 13 cents; six ounces, 18 cents and so on.

At 16 ounces parcel post rates will apply.

Carrot Brings Arrest In LG

A Lemon Grove man was arrested last week on charges of shoplifting after he walked out of Mayfair Market at 7663 Broadway with a partially eaten carrot, allegedly taken from the shelves of the store.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the man was observed to remove the carrot from the shelves and leave the store. After his arrest, he was released on his promise to appear and the evidence, described in the Sheriff's report as a "large, partially eaten, yellow carrot" was returned to the store, to be preserved as evidence.

Reports indicated that the man had placed a carton of cigarettes under his coat, but had returned it to the counter before leaving the store.

Hospital And College Sponsor Public Forum On Drug Scene

Grossmont Hospital and Grossmont College have joined forces to sponsor a six-session public forum series dealing with important developments in the current drug scene.

Offered as a public service to the community served by both the hospital and the college, the series will promote involvement and action through knowledge and communication. Each program in the series, especially designed for youth, teachers and other professional people, as well as all concerned citizens, will be conducted by an authority on drug use and abuse or a related field.

The office of community services will represent Grossmont College in the series, while the hospital administrative staff and hospital auxiliary will take part in the planning and presentation of each program in the series.

Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary president, Mrs. Ivan Bodine and Auxiliary Project chairman, Mrs. Robert Higgins, have worked closely with Dr. John Reppart, chairman of Health Education Advisory Committee for the hospital and Dr. Robert E. Hindman, hospital chief of staff. Dr. Eugene Farra, dean of community services for Grossmont College, rounds out the group of leaders planning the series.

Jeanne Cherbeneau, Grossmont College counselor, will open the series tonight when she, with several young people, both addicts and non-addicts from various community aid programs in San Diego, form a panel to discuss values and needs as they are reflected in attempts to cope with the problems of contemporary life. A film will complete the program titled "Is Your Gap Showing?" The Thursday evening programs will continue with Dr. David Deitch, associate professor of psychiatry, University of California, San Diego and director of the narcotics program for University Hospital, speaking January 27 and February 3. Deitch will discuss the historical, sociological, cultural, and physiological implications of drug use and abuse, including alcohol and tobacco.

Dr. Arnold Mandel is scheduled to present the program on February 10, titled "The Ecstasy and the Agony." Mandel is chairman, Department of Psychiatry, University of California, San Diego Medical School. Norbert Ehrenfreund, chief trial attorney of Defenders, Inc., will speak on "Legalistics vs. Humanistics," while a representative of Synanon a panel of former addicts will discuss the dynamics of rehabilitation February 17.

Grossmont College counselor, Jeanne Cherbeneau, will return to close the series on February 24, with a program titled "The Games People Are Still Playing." She will serve as moderator of a panel representing such agencies as Defy, YMCA, Crisis House, Project Oz, Deer Park and The In Between.

Reservations for the series have been filled through pre-registration, however, interested persons will be admitted to each program on a space-available basis. According to Mrs. Robert Higgins, the series may be repeated in the future if public interest and requests for reservations continue at the present pace.

There is no charge for admission. All programs in the series will begin at 7:30 p.m., in the Grossmont Hospital auditorium.

Imperial-80 Agreement Eyed By School District

A special meeting of the Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees was held Monday night for the purpose of dealing with a proposed agreement between the district and the developers of the Imperial-80 subdivision.

The meeting was called in hopes of hashing out differences of agreement in the document with developers in time for action prior to a hearing for the developers before the San Diego City Council January 27.

The developers, Pacific Bay Development Company, received a copy of the proposed agreement, but did not report back to the district with any indications of favor or disapproval, so much of the meeting was spent with trustees merely discussing the document and a recent proposal to the County Board of Supervisors.

The school district, along with other districts in the county, proposed to supervisors that a regulation be enacted which would require developers to provide school facilities for youngsters which would cause an increase in enrollment.

The proposal called for a 2% charge to the developers, based on the amount of the building permit, which would go to the districts when the permit was taken out.

The 2% proposal was not met with much favor, and it was decided that a $200 charge per unit would be more in order.

In the meantime, the district has drawn up an agreement, which, if accepted by the developers and the trustees, would call for a $200 per unit charge to developers. If no agreement is reached, it is generally felt that the developers will have a hard time gaining approval of the city council for the development.

Auto Exhaust Tests Free

Corral Ford will be among the 13 San Diego County Ford Dealers who will participate in an anti-smog, free exhaust test program on "Clean Air Day", Saturday.

The program will be the first held by Ford west of the Rockies and will involve the largest number of participating dealers to date.

Lyle Contway, President of Corral Ford, said, "Area motorists are invited to have their cars tested, regardless of vehicle make, in the quick-check lanes that will be maintained during the day. Exhaust emission will be monitored by a computerized infrared machine that accurately records hydro-carbon and carbon monoxide emissions. A special ultraviolet light detector "sees" the gases when they are burned on a hot filament. The analyzer also gives a measure of an auto engine's combustion efficiency."

"We hope this program will make a grass roots contribution to helping keep San Diego a clean air county", Contway said.

Water District Sues For Illegal Connection

A civil complaint has been filed against a La Presa area land developer for connecting to the Otay Municipal Water District's lines without authorization.

Robert Thorn, the District's legal counsel, said the complaint was against Art Wollgast, owner of property at 819 Grand ave., Spring Valley. The complaint alleges that District water was taken by an illegal connection and the water, in turn, was being sold to a tenant by Wollgast.

Thorn said that the district attorney's office had been requested to file a criminal action in the matter.

Thorn said incidents of illegal connections to both water and sewer systems maintained by the Otay District were increasing and that complaints would be filed whenever illegal connections were discovered.

The District alleges that Wollgast never notified the District of his connection, and that a meter was not installed. Water, Thorn said, was taken over a nine month period and that Wollgast collected water charges from his tenant and coverted these charges to his own use and benefit.

The District is asking for compensatory damages of $250 and punitive damages of $2,500, plus the costs of the action.

Dear Editor:

Re the Dimmer View and the article by Russ Walton of the Ventura Star-Free Press — Why didn't he name the legislators that were "too loaded" to form their vowels or syllables? I certainly agree that we, the taxpayers, pay for too much booze, and are being treated as fools — BUT — how, Mr. Editor, are we to know who these "poached legislators" are?

I am fairly new in this community and certainly find it hard to know the right men to vote for.

Enjoy your Dimmer View very much. Wouldn't miss it.

Indoor Games to Draw Outstanding Athletes

A classy field is programmed for this year's San Diego Indoor Games in the Sports Arena February 19.

There was some concern that major speedsters would not attend because of new sponsorship, but entries, according to this year's sponsors, assure an outstanding program. The games are sponsored this year by S.D. Track Club and State College.

Meet director Tony Sucec listed among the attractions world outdoor two-mile record holder Emile Puttemans of Belgium.

Putterman's, 24, set his world mark Aug. 21 in Edinburg, Scotland with 8:17.8 — two seconds off Ron Clarke's record. Other contenders include New Zealander Rex Maddaford who missed the world record in 1970 by 4/5th of a second and San Diego's Billy Mills, a crown winner in the 1964 Olympics.

Martin McGrady, world record holder will compete in 600 yard event. So will Sweden's Anders Fager who is now attending USIU, and Ron Whitney of the Striders.

The 60-yard dash will draw national speedsters. Earl Harris, U.S. Army, co-holder of the world record will share honors with Jamaican Carl Lawson. Both men are world record holders. Harris with the 60 yard title at 5.9 and Lawson the 100 in 9.3.

For the first time in its six-year history, the event here will have an official sanction of NCAA. This means the nation's top intercollegiate stars can now compete with no restrictions. In the past, the meet was taboo for NCAA institutions with severe penalties for schools and athletes who competed, Sucec said.

Sessions on Feb. 19 will be 12-5:30 and from 6:30-11 p.m.

Routine To Return To Prep Athletics

By John Nicholson

After a surprise start in Grossmont League basketball action, things will get down to routine next week. The schedule for hoop fans, as well as predicted results of basketball, wrestling, and soccer contests, follows:

Basketball

Grossmont at El Cajon, Friday. Ralph Drollinger has started to play a better defensive game, and El Cajon has no chance against the 'Hillers. Grossmont by 30 points.

Granite Hills at El Capitan, Friday. Both teams have settled down quite a bit after opening pre-season play strongly. The Eagles have looked somewhat better, but have not shown strength in the last three or four games. Even.

Monte Vista at Helix, Friday. Helix, after a shocking loss to Grossmont last week, will be back in the groove for this contest. Monte Vista has been coming along of late, but hasn't improved that much. Helix by 14.

Santana at Mount Miguel, Friday. Hold on to your hats at this game. Since the return of Tim Miller, Mt. Miguel has looked extra-tough, and Santana has emerged lately with improvements by Geoff Hinkle. Mt. Miguel by four points in a high-scoring upset.

Friday games begin at 8 p.m.

El Cajon at Granite Hills Tuesday. The Braves have tried everything from slow-down tactics to presses in hopes of getting into the win column, but Granite Hills is a well-balanced team and will be tough for El Cajon. Eagles by 12.

Mt. Miguel at El Capitan, Tuesday. The Matadors have looked increasingly better in the past few games, while El Capitan is slumping. El Cap is a shade better, but call this one even.

Monte Vista at Grossmont, Tuesday. When the Monarchs venture into the 'Hiller gym, it'll be an uphill battle all the way. Grossmont by 24.

Helix at Santana, Tuesday. The Highlanders have to be the better team, but the Sultans have the potential to pull an upset if they can outrun their adversaries. Helix by six.

Tuesday games are at 4:30 p.m.

Wrestling

El Cajon at Grossmont, Friday. El Cajon, after upsetting Helix two weeks ago, has established itself as an upper-division threat in league standings, while Grossmont will be pressed to escape the cellar. El Cajon by 12.

El Cap at Granite Hills, Friday. The Vaqueros will have a big job ahead if plans for an

Aztecs to Try To Add Two to Hoop Win Streak

The pendulum of victory swung back in San Diego State's favor last week and Aztec coach Dick Davis hopes it remains stuck in that position. However, it's going to take a real effort on the part of Davis' charges to keep things swinging in their favor.

The Aztecs, 10-3 overall and 2-1 in Pacific Coast Athletic Association competition, face possibly their toughest weekend of the season this week. Maybe not quite in terms of competition, although both UC Santa Barbara and Arizona State are far from pushovers, but in terms of bodily readiness.

Quite simply, the problem confronting San Diego State is this. The Aztecs must play an important Friday night PCAA encounter against UC Santa Barbara (9-4 and 2-2) on the Gauchos home court and then speedily return to San Diego for a Saturday evening date against Arizona State (9-5) in Peterson Gym on campus.

Tickets for Saturday's game are available on campus only in the ticket office in Aztec Center.

CANTON, Ohio — John Hadl, veteran quarterback of the San Diego Chargers, has been named the NFL Man of the Year.

Hadl was selected by a vote of the fans of the nation in a season-long competition sponsored by Vitalis and coordinated by the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The award honors the NFL Man of the Year on the basis of civic involvement, as well as athletic ability.

The award is unique in that the major prize does not go to Hadl at all, but to the community in which he plays and name for the benefit of students from the San Diego lives. A $25,000 scholarship fund will be set up in Hadl's area. Hadl also will receive a 1971 luxury automobile and the beautiful bronze Gladiator trophy sculpted by Daniel Schwartz.
